Introduction

AUTHORITY AND SCOPE—The economic censuses are required by law under 13 U.S. Code, sections 131, 191, and 224. The 1967 Census of Business portion of the economic censuses consists of firms engaged in retail trade, wholesale trade, and selected services (hotels and motels; personal, business, and repair services; amusement and recreation services including the motion picture industry; law firms, and architectural and engineering firms) which operated in the United States. In addition, the census of business covers public warehouses, dental laboratories, travel agencies, and truck and bus carriers not subject to economic regulation by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

COVERAGE—This report covers firms engaged primarily in performing services of a professional nature in the fields of consulting and design engineering, architecture, and land surveying. The firms included in this report comprise Group 891 as defined in the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual.<sup>1</sup>

CENSUS DISCLOSURE RULES—In accordance with Federal law governing census reports, any data which would disclose the operations of an individual establishment or business organization are not published. However, the number of establishments or firms in a kind of business is not considered a disclosure, so that this item may appear in instances where other items of information for the same kind of business or geographic area are withheld.

CORRECTIONS TO DATA—Corrections to the tables presented in this report, made immediately prior to publication, have not been carried beyond the lowest detail level unless they significantly affect the data. As a result the detail in some tables may not add to totals.

SPECIAL TABULATIONS—Special tabulations of data collected in the 1967 Census of Business may be obtained on computer tape, on punch cards, or in tabular form. The data provided in such special tabulations will be in summary form and will be subject to the same rules prohibiting disclosure of confidential information (including name, address, kind of business, or other data for individual business establishments or companies) as are the regular publications.

Special tabulations are prepared on a cost basis and the request for a cost estimate, as well as exact specifications on the type and format of the data to be provided, should be directed to: Chief, Business Division, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D. C. 20233.

GENERAL EXPLANATION

CENSUS COVERAGE

Method of coverage—In the 1967 economic censuses, architectural and engineering firms were divided into two categories—the “mail” universe and the “nonmail” universe. The coverage of each component and the method of obtaining census information for these two groups are described below.

1. The “nonmail universe”—This group consists of firms which were not required to file a regular census return and includes the following categories:

a. All “nonemployers”—Consists of all firms with no paid employment during 1967. Receipts information for these firms was obtained from 1967 Federal income tax records. The census included only those nonemployer firms which reported a receipts volume of $1,000 or more during 1967 or, having been in operation for less than the full year, reported receipts which would have reached a total of $1,000 or more on an annual basis. Although representing more than half of all firms, the nonemployer segment in 1967 accounted for only about 7 percent of receipts of all architectural and engineering firms.

b. “Small employers”—“Employers” consists of all firms in the active records of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) which were subject to payment of Federal Insurance Contribution Act (FICA) taxes. In the 1967 Census, “small” architectural and engineering firms consist of firms with one to three employees. Although representing more than half of the employer firms, the “small employer” segment accounted for only 9 percent of receipts of all employer architectural and engineering firms.

Data on receipts, payroll, and employment for “small employer” firms were obtained from the administrative records of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and the Social Security Administration (SSA).

2. The “mail” universe—Information for firms in this group was obtained by means of a mail canvass. In terms of receipts, this is the largest component, accounting for 85 percent of receipts of all architectural and engineering firms and 91 percent of receipts of all employer firms. However, they represent less than 22 percent of the total number of firms and less than half of all employer firms. It is from firms in this group that specialized types of data (in addition to receipts, annual payroll, and employment) were collected. Appendix B presents a facsimile of the report form used in the mail canvass.

Classification—Nonemployer firms were classified on the basis of information supplied on the Federal income tax returns. The classification of firms in the mail universe (section 2 above) was based on the primary source of each firm's receipts as reported on the census report.

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

Average annual net income per firm—Average annual net income per firm is derived by dividing “receipts,” less the sum of “payroll entire year” and “nonpayroll expenses,” by the number of “firms.”

Employment size—Firms are classified by size according to the number of paid employees (including part-time employees) for the pay period including March 12, 1967. Proprietors and partners, even though they may have been actively engaged in the operation of the firm, are not counted as paid employees in determining employment size, nor is their compensation included in payroll.

Paid employees for the pay period including March 12, 1967—Paid employees consist of the number of employees, including salaried officers and executives of corporations, who were on the payroll in the pay period including March 12, 1967. Included are employees on paid sick leave, paid holidays, and paid vacations. Proprietors and partners of unicorporated firms are not included. The definition of paid employees is the same as used in reporting on IRS Form 941.

Payroll entire year—Payroll includes all forms of compensation such as salaries, wages, commissions, bonuses, vacation allowances, sick leave pay, and the value of payments in kind (such as free meals and lodgings) paid during the year to all employees. For corporations, it includes amounts paid to officers and executives; for unincorporated firms, it does not include compensation of proprietors or of partners. Payroll is reported before deductions for social security, income tax, insurance, dues, etc. This definition of payroll is the same as that used by the Internal Revenue Service for purposes of reporting on Form 941.

Receipts—Receipts include the total of all receipts from architectural, engineering, land surveying, and other services of firms primarily engaged in these industries. Receipts do not include receipts from architectural, engineering, and land surveying services of construction and manufacturing firms and other businesses whose primary activity is other than providing architectural, engineering, and land surveying services. Receipts may be on a "cash" or "accrual" basis in conformity with the firms accounting practice. Total receipts exclude income from investments, rental of real estate, sale of fixed assets, and other nonoperating receipts.

Although the count of firms in this report represents the number in business at the end of the year, the receipts figures include receipts of all firms in business at any time during the year. Nonemployer firms are included in the tables if they operated at an annual receipts volume rate of $1,000 or more; however, their reported receipts have not been projected to a full year's operation.

Receipts size—Firms are classified by receipts size based on volume of receipts in 1967. For the tables in this report, receipts figures were rounded to thousands of dollars before establishing the size classifications.

Standard metropolitan statistical areas—The standard metropolitan statistical areas

(SMSA's) for which data are shown are those defined by the Bureau of the Budget.<sup>1</sup> A standard metropolitan statistical area is a county or group of contiguous counties (except in New England) which contains at least one central city of 50,000 inhabitants or more, or "twin cities" with a combined population of at least 50,000. In addition to the county or counties containing such a city or cities, contiguous counties are included in a SMSA if, according to certain criteria, they are essentially metropolitan in character and are socially and economically integrated with the central city. In new England, towns and cities rather than counties are the units used in defining an SMSA.

SMSA population-size categories presented in this report are based on the 1960 Population Census.

Legal form of organization:

Individual Proprietorship—A firm owned by one individual.

Partnership—A firm owned by two or more persons each of whom has a financial interest in the firm.

Corporation—Firms legally incorporated under State laws.

Other legal forms—Estates, receiverships, joint ventures, cooperatives, etc. These are firms whose legal form of ownership is not one of those defined above. In 1967, there were only a very small number of architectural, engineering and land surveying firms not classified as sole proprietors, partnerships, or corporations. Since the presentation of separate data for these firms would, in most tables, result in disclosure in accordance with Census rules (see Introduction), data for these firms are combined with "corporations."
